INVITATION FOR EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST

CONSULTANCY SERVICES

FOR

CERTIFICATE COURSE IN SPECIALIZED READING INSTRUCTION

The Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States (OECS) Commission invites interested qualified Institutions/Consulting Firms to submit Expressions of Interest for the provision of consultancy services for a CERTIFICATE COURSE IN SPECIALIZED READING INSTRUCTION.

The Terms of Reference and Guidelines for the Submission of Expressions of Interest for this consultancy are provided below.

THE ORGANISATION OF EASTERN CARIBBEAN STATES COMMISSION

EDUCATION DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT UNIT EARLY LEARNERS’

PROGRAMME

TERMS OF REFERENCE

CONSULTANCY SERVICES FOR

CERTIFICATE COURSE IN SPECIALIZED READING INSTRUCTION

INTRODUCTION

The Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States (OECS) has received funding from the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) towards support for the OECS Early Learners Programme (ELP). The funding is to assist the OECS Ministries of Education (MOEs) to improve reading among early grade learners. This is consistent with the USAID Education Strategy 2011-2015, and specifically with Goal #1 which is to improve the reading skills of 100 million students. The ELP aims to contribute to the overall improvement in student learning at the end of the primary education cycle and the objective is to improve the reading achievement levels of all learners at the early primary level (Grade K to Grade 3) in the six (6) independent Member States of the OECS.

BACKGROUND

The OECS Education Sector Strategy (OESS) which was endorsed by the Council of Ministers of Education in May 2011 was accepted as the framework for educational development in Member States. With a vision of “Every Learner Succeeds,” the main purpose of the OECS is to guide the educational directions and priorities of Member States. One of the development themes of the Strategy relates to the need to improve the levels of literacy, numeracy and technology among all learners. Analyses of student performance in various national and regional examinations revealed poor performance in English and Mathematics with a declining trend in the latter. The analyses also highlighted the gender disparities in performance at all levels with male students at greater risk of lower achievement.

Poor performance in English Language and Mathematics continues to be an area of major challenge for educators and policy makers in the OECS. Concern about the low performances in the two subjects relates to the belief that the ability to read, write and count is critical for academic achievement and success on the job. Of further concern is the large and growing number of students transitioning to secondary education without the prerequisite skills to succeed at that level. The ELP therefore seeks to address low performances and improve reading performance among early grade learners in the beneficiary states.

PURPOSE OF THE CONSULTANCY

Research in the field continues to underscore the value of the teacher and quality of instruction as a major factor impacting student performance. The Early Learners Programme puts much emphasis on teacher professional development and training with the overall goal of improving student’s reading ability at the early grades of primary education. This is in harmony with the following USAID performance indicator: Proportion of students, who at the end of two years of primary schooling, demonstrate that they can read and understand Grade level texts with direct United States Government support. In recognition of the role of the teacher in the intervention that the ELP provides, the OECS Commission is seeking to engage an accredited post-secondary institution (Consulting Firm) to deliver a programme leading to a Certificate in Reading Instruction. The programme would be open to aspiring Reading Specialists in the following six beneficiary countries: Antigua & Barbuda, the Commonwealth of Dominica, Grenada, St. Kitts & Nevis, Saint Lucia and St. Vincent and the Grenadines.

SCOPE OF SERVICES AND DELIVERABLES

In close collaboration with the OECS Commission, the Project Implementation Consultancy Team and MOEs, the post-secondary institution (Consulting Firm) will design a modular accredited certificate programme that will allow teachers to build specific competencies related to reading instruction. The main goal is to develop a cadre of teachers who have high level reading instruction competencies that will translate into improved student reading competencies.

The targeted group for training will be selected based on the following prequalification:

- Possession of a teaching certification;
- Record of outstanding teaching for a minimum of five (5) years;
- Demonstrated understanding of best practices in teaching;
- A Bachelor’s Degree in Education will be considered an asset for the certificate course;
- Candidates will be nominated for participation by their respective Ministries of Education’ with an indication of the role envisioned for them when the certificate course is completed. A nominee verification will be implemented by the Programme Management Team.

Specifically, this assignment will entail:

1. Close consideration of:
 - a) the OECS Education system;
 - b) the OECS Education Sector Strategy (OESS);
 - c) the ELP Report on Reading;

- d) the ELP Report on Teacher Education;
 - e) the OECS Harmonized Language Arts Curriculum (K-3); and
 - f) the latest available programme descriptions of reading instruction courses offered by the Eastern Caribbean Joint Board of Teacher Education (ECJBTE).
2. A concept paper that reflects close consideration of all of the documents above, clearly articulating the nature, structure and implementation plan for a certificate course in reading instruction with details of the philosophy and evidence base for the development of the course. This paper should also illustrate how the course is intended to develop teacher competencies in reading instruction that will lead to improved reading performance by students of the OECS.
 3. A course outline that contains modules focused on key areas of reading instruction to include:
 - a) Best practices for effective reading instruction with a clear understanding of what reading is, how children learn to read, the role of the brain and the main variables that impact reading instruction such as environment, family and teacher qualities.
 - b) The art of reading instruction that encompasses the best approaches for teaching children to read, the alternative approaches when students do not master reading competencies, evidence-based models for effective reading instruction and making critical judgments based on these approaches and alternatives to meet individual student needs.
 - c) Other important methodologies such as advanced developmental reading, content area literacy instruction, prescriptive reading and children's literature.
 - d) Assessment of reading – diagnostic and formative .
 - e) Evidence-based intervention models for supporting students who experience difficulty in reading to accelerate their progress.
 - f) Action planning and intervention design.
 - g) A capstone course which includes an action research component that allows teachers to experiment with new learning and aims to address difficulties students in their classrooms experience with reading.
 4. Course materials/ modules designed for instruction of participants during the programme.
 5. A mechanism for sustaining the professional development of participating teachers.
 6. A mechanism for the Member State Ministries of Education to accommodate new teachers in a similar certificate programme.
 7. Prepare progress reports identifying the following:
 - a. Teacher attendance.
 - b. Degree of teacher involvement.
 - c. Teacher performance in meeting standards and requirements of the course.
 - d. Degree of impact on teaching practice, with evidence.
 - e. Recommendations for continued professional development of teachers.
 8. Participate in an inception meeting to discuss draft course outline and associated materials, and progress meetings to discuss contents of the report, implications and recommendations.
 9. Provide a certificate that serves as credit toward future formal study at the graduate level.

METHODOLOGY

The assignment will involve an in-service programme with a blended approach (face-to-face and online) that is practical and does not cause undue interruptions to the school programme and instructional time.

Specifically, the post-secondary institution will seek to undertake the work through the following proposed methodology:

1. Asynchronous learning for a pre-determined percentage of course time.
2. Synchronous learning for a pre-determined percentage of course time.
3. Regular real-time application of strategies/ models/ new learning, and reporting on findings/ experiences based on said implementation.
4. Observations of true-to-life teaching experiences and teacher-student interactions to assimilate key reading instruction methodologies and content through actual experience or video recordings.
5. Reflections and critical thinking based on the above-mentioned experiences towards the development of independent evidence-based decision making regarding students’ needs and reading instruction.
6. Specific attention to the role of the participant in contributing to Professional Learning Communities at their school.
7. An action research component that allows the teacher to experiment with approaches aimed at addressing students’ difficulties with reading and reading instruction.
8. An assessment mechanism for determining successful completion of the course.

DURATION OF THE ASSIGNMENT

The Assignment is expected to be undertaken within seven (7) to nine (9) months and is expected to commence in April, 2018. Participating teachers will be based in the participating Member States of the OECS/USAID ELP as indicated earlier.
